

FORBES SAID TO BE "ONE OF GANG OF CONSPIRATORS" AGAINST U.S.

HE IS PASSED BY DEFENDANT IN HIS DENIAL

Major General O'Ryan Says He Can Prive All Accusations

Washington, Nov. 15.—Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director of the United States Veterans Bureau, was declared to be "one of the gang of conspirators who were tied together neck and jowl to defraud the government," by Major General John F. O'Ryan, government counsel, in an opening statement today to the senate investigating committee.

O'Ryan declared he would prove the truth of all the charges made by Elias H. Mortimer, of Philadelphia, the star government witness, which were branded as "lies" by Forbes. O'Ryan also called upon Forbes' counsel to produce proof that government witnesses had been brow beaten into perjury.

"We will give the committee a list of witnesses who must be summoned to prove the charges of subornation of perjury and perjury," replied Col. James S. Easby-Smith, Forbes' counsel.

"I will also furnish a list of documents which would prove Forbes' innocence and which have been withheld by government counsel."

In his statement, General O'Ryan said:

"Yesterday in the cross examination of Colonel Forbes he made charges that the testimony thus far introduced, which impeaches his character, is not only false but that it is the result of subornation of perjury in the coercion of witnesses."

"He also charged that documents and papers which would have indicated the innocence of Colonel Forbes were withheld by counsel for the committee."

"I did not wish at that time to bandon the cross examination of the witness to go into collateral matter. It is a well known recourse of embarrassed witnesses to distract attention from themselves by attacking others."

"Colonel Forbes I regard as irresponsible. I expect, however, to prove much more than irresponsibility in his conduct of office and in his lack of care of the disabled. I expect to prove convincingly the whole truth of Mortimer's charge that Colonel Forbes was one of the gang of conspirators who were tied together neck and jowl to defraud the government."

"But Colonel Easby-Smith is an officer of the court and is responsible, and I ask him here and now if he has any proof of any improper action toward any witness upon my part or upon the part of Major Arnold (assistant counsel)."

Colonel Easby-Smith said he did not specify who had committed the improper action but that he would submit proof to support every word

MOTHERS BLAMED; GIRLS LEADING BOYS ASTRAY IS CHARGE

Boston, Nov. 15.—It's the girls who are sowing the wild oats nowadays. And, what's more, they're leading the boys astray. Years ago the boys used to get spanked for reading "Diamond Dick." Now girls are reading suggestive novels and magazine stories and nothing is done about it. That's the opinion of Mrs. Charles H. Remington, a vice president of the National Parent-Teachers' association, of Providence. In her address before the New England Association of School Superintendents at Harvard university she told the educators they were only half doing their work if they failed to utilize the power of parents. "Mothers are falling down on the job," said Mrs. Remington, and she's a mother herself. "They are passing the bringing up of the child to someone else."

PITTSBURGH POLICE SEEKING WOMAN CROOK AND COMPANION

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 13.—A fashionable dressed woman with "Ritzzy manners" and a male companion, a prosperous looking professional man, are being sought throughout the state today by police investigating a $10,000 diamond robbery in Greensburg, one of the city's most exclusive jewelry stores, late yesterday.

FORMER KAISER THEN AND NOW

Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm, living for five years in exile in Holland, is reported to have received passports permitting him and his entourage to return to Germany. Brussels reports a royalist coup, to attempt to restore him to the throne, is set for December 4. The upper picture shows Wilhelm as he appears now, bearded and aged. The lower picture shows him in the height of his power in the World War.

LAW PENALIZING EMPLOYERS VALID

Columbus, Nov. 15.—The Ohio supreme court held constitutional the law penalizing employers 50 per cent of an award made by the state industrial commission if the employer does not pay the award within 10 days. Judges Allen and Wanamaker held the law to be valid, while Judges Jones, Robinson, Matthias and Day and Chief Justice Marshall held it to be unconstitutional. This is the second five to two vote holding a law constitutional since 1912. It formerly had been a bare majority as supreme court. This circumstance arises from the provision in the state constitution requiring all but one of the seven judges to concur in pronouncing a statute unconstitutional.

INCIDENT NEARLY RESULTED IN WAR

London, Nov. 15.—An official inquiry into the attack on Colonel Kristich, which resulted in the Jugoslav ultimatum to Bulgaria and an appeal to The Hague tribunal to assess damages, arose from the jealousy of two Bulgarian suitors of a servant girl, according to a dispatch from Sofia. The dispatches state that the servant girl was being courted by the colonel's soldier servant. The two Bulgarians, after a drinking bout, attacked the soldier. Colonel Kristich intervened and was struck on the head. The Bulgarians fled. The incident nearly caused another Balkan war.

RED ACTIVITY INCREASES IN GERMAN NATION

France Not Alarmed Over Threat Not to Observe Versailles Treaty

Berlin, Nov. 15.—Red activity increased in Germany today. Forty red leaders were arrested in various places charged with agitating strikes.

Paris, Nov. 15.—Even if the Allied Ambassadors' Council decides not to impose any new penalties upon Germany, France will not act alone against the Germans, considering that occupation of the Ruhr and Rhineland is sufficient guarantee of safety and of reparations payments, it was learned in authoritative political circles today.

There are indications that France will not press the allied powers to agree to occupation of Hamburg as a new sanction in retaliation for the following acts by Berlin:

- 1.—Allowing the former crown prince to return.
- 2.—Reported decision to cease all reparations payments and disregard the Versailles treaty.
- 3.—Refusal to agree to re-establishment of allied military control.

There is a conflict of opinion as to whether the French occupational forces will be aided or hindered if Germany cuts off Rhineland and Ruhr, allowing them freedom to follow their own future political, financial and economic course. The chief fear arises from unemployment and lack of food which may result in riots and continued disorders.

A foreign office communique explained the failure of the negotiations with Hugo Stinnes at Dusseldorf to increase industrial and mining production.

Stinnes attempted to insert political clauses in the proposed agreement engaging the allies and Germans to reopen reparations negotiations. He refused to sign a purely technical agreement.

London, Nov. 15.—The complete cessation of every kind of reparation by Germany was semi-officially announced last night, according to a dispatch to the Central News from Berlin.

This action was taken on the ground that the treaty of Versailles had been violated by France and that therefore it could not be observed by Germany.

Berlin, Nov. 15.—Germany's attempt at a parliamentary dictatorship is universally declared an utter failure.

Nothing constructive has been accomplished by placing the extraordinary powers in the hands of Chancellor Stresemann. These powers automatically ceased with the withdrawal of the Socialists from the Stresemann cabinet.

The reichstag has been called to convene next Tuesday for the avowed purpose of burying that dictatorship and digging the grave of Stresemann as chancellor. The nationalists on one hand and the Socialists on the other both expect to cause Stresemann's fall Tuesday or Wednesday with a vote of lack of confidence.

All the political parties are dissatisfied with Stresemann. He refuses to resign, however, and declares that he will stick to his post, preferring to "fall in open battle" in the reichstag.

It is believed that the next step will be the creation of a triumvirate, in which General Von Seeckt will possibly be military dictator, but with a non-military man as chancellor.

Abandonment of the Ruhr and Rhineland by the present government is considered as sealing Stresemann's fate. This decision of the chancellor is arousing intense indignation. The Democratic party expects to withdraw its members from the cabinet, and it is believed that the Centrists will shortly do likewise. Action of this sort by these parties would leave Stresemann a solitary figure in the political storms, and it is not believed he can weather the tempest for more than a few days.

PROBE WELCOMED

Stevensville, O., Nov. 15.—Investigation of alleged laxity in law enforcement here, for which city and county officials are held responsible, may be extended to include the entire county. This is the consensus of opinion following receipt of word from Columbus that Governor Donahay had requested Attorney General Crabbe to order a special grand jury to probe conditions which made possible the "murder of a dry agent, the shooting of another and the dynamiting of the home of a third without apparent attempt at prosecution." Mayor Frank A. Hawkins, when informed of the governor's action, said: "I am glad to see it come. We have the best city in the state and the grand jury report will show it."

GREEK KING LIKELY TO LOSE THRONE

King George and Queen Elizabeth

King George of Greece has agreed to comply with the demand of the Military Republican faction that he leave Greece for 60 days, pending the clearing of the general situation. It is not believed he will return, for General Pangalos, former Commander-in-Chief of the Greek army, is authority for the statement that the Military-Republican group has demanded an immediate plebiscite to determine whether King George will be banished, the throne abolished and a republic proclaimed. The majority of the Greek people are declared to favor a republic. King George is shown here with his wife, Queen Elizabeth.

GENERAL DROP IN BANK RATES AFTER HOLIDAYS IS EXPECTED

Washington, Nov. 15.—A general drop in bank rates as a result of the swelling volume of credit and high reserve ratios at the banks is expected to be authorized after the holidays, it was learned here today.

The rediscount rates of federal reserve banks have been under detailed study at the present meeting of governors of federal reserve banks, federal reserve agents and members of the Federal Reserve Board.

This and other questions will be carefully weighed before the session ends tomorrow. While no official statement has been forthcoming from the conference, every indication points to lowering of the rediscounts. Reviewing the financial situation the bankers have found banks of the country are more prosperous than at any time in history. They have met extraordinary demands for credits to harvest and market this year's crops. A large volume of credit to the agriculturists and to institutions financing them, soon will be finding its way back into the banks. The bank reserves thereby will be still further increased. Credit also extending their volume to industrial and manufacturing groups also will be flowing back into the banks, as business men clean up their seasonal distribution of products and repay their borrowings.

Officials of the reserve board said that to meet seasonal demands in recent months the banks of the larger cities have increased their loans by $1,000,000,000.

FOUR HUNTERS KILLED WHEN TRAIN STRIKES AUTO NEAR NEWARK

Columbus Men Meet Instant Death Early Thursday Morning—All Were Employed in Pan-Handle Shops At Ohio Capital.

Newark, O., Nov. 15.—Four men, all of Columbus, forming a hunting party, were killed at Frazeyburg this morning when struck by a Pennsylvania train.

The engine of the train was derailed. A westbound Pennsylvania passenger train, running at high speed and in a heavy fog, struck their Ford automobile at Frazeyburg, 15 miles east of here about 6:30 o'clock this morning. The men were Harry B. Watson, Oscar Norville, J. E. Turner and Lewis Coombs, all of Columbus. The men were employed in the Columbus panhandle shops.

Within two hours after the accident Dr. L. E. Grimes, coroner of Muskingum county, arrived from Zanesville and viewed the remains. The body of Harry Watson had been carried on the pilot of the engine a distance of about 300 yards before the train could be stopped, due to its great speed, which was perhaps 70 miles an hour.

The coroner gave orders that the bodies should be removed to the undertaking establishment of George

Holtz in Frazeyburg and there await further instructions from the family who were promptly notified.

The scene of the accident was between elevations of ground and in addition to this the heavy fog made impossible to see the train.

Official investigation by Dr. L. E. Grimes, coroner of Muskingum county, revealed that Henry Campbell was not among the dead nor was he with the party. The name that was originally given as Campbell, is Lewis Coombs of Columbus and he was the owner of the car.

TREASURY HEADS ANSWER CRITICS OF MELLON PLAN

Income Tax Reduction Program Is Considered Good

Washington, Nov. 15.—"The income tax reduction program recommended by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is designed to remove the greatest obstacle blocking a return to normalcy and preventing prosperity from reaching flood tide."

This was the answer of authorized treasury officials here, to criticisms of the plan expressed by politicians.

Characterizing the present system, as an "economic absurdity," treasury experts pointed out that the existing tax rates are directly responsible for a large part of the high cost of living by: "The costs of production, forcing high interest rates, increasing transportation charges, and advancing rents."

So this is what the treasury says the proposed reductions would do to reduce the cost of living: Bring costs of production back to normal, including food as well as manufactured articles and buildings; make possible lower freight and passenger rates; stimulate residence construction, with consequently lower rents, and increase employment, with resultant higher wages.

The key to the whole situation, as seen by the treasury department, is the flow of capital into productive enterprises. At present, it is emphasized, the extreme rates of taxation, encourage money to seek non-productive channels that will enable it to evade taxation.

The treasury authorities denounced as "entirely fallacious" the charge that it was proposed to take too much off the rich and too little off the poor or people of moderate incomes. Supporting this position this explanation was made:

Of the total of $323,000,000 reductions Secretary Mellon recommends, $100,100,000 comes under the head of taxes on telegrams, telephones, leased wires, theatre admissions and nuisance taxes. That leaves $222,900,000 to be cut off in income taxes. Now, of the $222,900,000, the reduction on incomes up to $6,000 a year would amount to $92,750,000. On incomes from $6,000 up to $10,000 the cut would aggregate $52,100,000. This makes a total of $144,850,000 out of the total reductions of $222,900,000. In other words, about seventy per cent of the reductions would be on incomes of $10,000 or less. Less than five per cent or $5,765,000, would come off incomes of $10,000 or more.

Even if all the cut was to be taken off the rich, it was said, the result would be beneficial to people with smaller incomes through the effect in reducing the cost of living, stimulating employment, etc. Secretary Mellon believes the day is coming when a sales tax will take the place of many of the levies now imposed.

TO PRESENT CLEVELAND CLAIM

Cleveland, Nov. 15.—Cleveland's claims of eligibility to be host to the Republican national convention next June will be presented by Congressman Theodore E. Burton at Washington today before the subcommittee of the Republican national committee. Burton left for Washington with the assurance that Clevelanders can raise the $125,000 necessary to bring the event to this city. Carmi Thompson, Secretary of State Brown and others will aid Burton.

WILLIS SAYS HE WILL INVESTIGATE LAW OPERATIONS

Bridgeport, O., Nov. 15.—Why the watchful eye of inspectors does not prevent such financial disasters as the Dollings smashup and the closing of the National Bank of Barnesville yesterday, is puzzling Frank B. Willis, senior United States Senator from Ohio, who was here last night.

"In connection with the heavy losses of Ohio investors through the stock manipulation of the Dollings Company and the recent 'big' bank failures, it seems to me that both the Blue Sky department of the state and the Inspection Department of the federal government must be somewhat wrong or else such defalcations could not be possible," said Senator Willis.

"It is a crime that the savings of people, patiently and laboriously earned, should become the plunder of those who seem to have no regard for their positions of trust. It is significant that within the limits of Ohio in the past year, there have been three failures of important national banks involving hundreds of thousands of dollars. If this is the fault of the inspection department, I propose to find it out. If there is a fault in the law rather than in the administration of it, I propose to find that out and if possible to secure an amendment to it. It looks to me however, as if the law is all right but that somebody has been gambling with the people's hard earned money."

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

Volumes have been written upon the value of breathing exercises. Many exaggerated statements have been made as to what can be accomplished through deep breathing. Nevertheless, it must be definitely understood that full deep breaths, which expand the lungs to their fullest capacity, and are taken at frequent intervals, are of great value.

Almost any vigorous exercise will enforce deep breathing, and there is no question as to the benefit of the involuntary or spontaneous inhalation and exhalation thus induced. Running and wrestling are types of very vigorous athletic exercises that will compel one to breathe deeply and fully and will insure a full lung development without special breathing exercises. And this is more especially true if much exercise of this character is taken regularly, day after day, all the year round.

But where the occupation and surroundings are such that one cannot indulge in such active pastimes, or where the time for such exercises is necessarily limited, frequent voluntary deep-breathing exercises can be highly commended. About the best example of the proper use of the diaphragm and the natural movement of the abdominal and dorsal region in correct breathing is illustrated in a small child. In nearly all cases an active healthy child will breathe properly, and by studying the movement of his abdomen in both the standing and reclining positions you will find that as the breath is inhaled the abdominal region will expand. When the breath is exhaled this part of the body will contract or be drawn inward. This demonstrates very conclusively that the movement or expansion of the body in natural breathing is abdominal, and that the bony framework of the chest should not be involved except when taking full deep breaths, or when breathing hard from the effects of very vigorous exercise.

It is not at all necessary to go through a complicated system in order to learn proper methods of breathing, since this is comparatively simple if you are willing to make persistent efforts day after day until you are fitfully rewarded. If you simply acquire the habit of drawing in a deep full breath, at frequent intervals during the day, expanding first in the abdominal region, you will soon be able to breathe properly.

DOG COMES BACK; LOST FIVE YEARS

You've heard about the cat that "came back."

Well, this is about the dog that did the same remarkable feat. A collie, owned by Mrs. Julia Whittington, of N. Detroit Street, disappeared five years ago last fall, and no trace of the canine could be found. Members of the family despaired of ever having their pet returned, but the other day "Peg" came back.

It is thought that the dog had been kept in Clark County since its disappearance, since a license tag bore the name of that county, with the year 1919. The dog was seen on the street last week by B. L. Whittington, who recognized her, but she did not notice her former master. "Peg" later found the Whittington residence and joyously greeted her long-lost family.

NIMRODS VENTURE FORTH IN SEARCH OF GAME THURSDAY

Nimrods with shotguns and hunting accoutrements, deserted Xenia Thursday for the highways and byways.

They went with the sole ambition of making life miserable for the rabbits, which game experts say abound in Greene County forests this hunting season.

Thursday marked the first day of the open season on the cotton tails. With all the hunters in the woods Thursday bunnies that escaped the slaughter were expected to desert their natural haunts and venture into the city, where there is a law against shooting.

During the period since October 1, 158 hunters have obtained licenses from Clerk of Courts Harvey Elam, his records show. Prior to that 235 obtained the necessary permits during this year from the same source, making a total of 393.

Township clerks also have the privilege of granting hunting licenses.

EUROPEAN SITUATION

France, it was reported from Paris, will not act alone if ambassadorial council fails to impose fresh penalties upon Germany, considering occupation of the Rhineland and Ruhr sufficient guarantee for security and reparations payments.

The British foreign office stated that, owing to the election situation, England cannot take any new steps regarding foreign policy nor act upon Germany's reported determination to stop all reparations payments.

A report was received in London that Germany may formally repudiate the Versailles treaty.

Red activity is increasing in Germany and many arrests were made today.

SERIOUSLY INJURED IN DITCH CAVE-IN

Homer Sturgeon, 40, 235 Chestnut Street, city employe received internal injuries that may prove serious when he was caught in a cave-in of a ditch on Dayton Avenue Wednesday.

Sturgeon was working under Roy Jenks, superintendent of street work, in an attempt to locate a sewer, and had tunneled under the street when a passing motor truck jarred the earth and caused the cave-in. Another employe had just left the excavation when the accident occurred.

Sturgeon was caught in dirt up to his arm pits. Fellow employes extricated him. Dr. B. R. McClellan was called and the injured man was removed to his home. He was hurt internally but the gravity of his injuries cannot yet be determined.

SEEK LEGISLATION REGARDING ALIENS

Washington, Nov. 15.—Exclusion by law of Japanese and all other aliens ineligible to citizenship is believed certain of accomplishment at the coming session of congress, according to Senator Samuel M. Shortridge and Representative Arthur M. Free of California and other western members of congress. Senator Shortridge went to the white house and sought to enlist the aid of President Coolidge in the movement for the passage of such a provision. While prevented by custom from revealing the president's attitude, the senator apparently was pleased with the results of his conference.

Immediately after coming out of the president's office, Senator Shortridge announced that he will issue a call for an early meeting of all western senators and representatives to get behind the proposed exclusion provision. It is proposed to have the provision embodied in a section of the new immigration law.

EX-KAISER BRANDS REPORT OF RETURN AS PURE FICTION

New York, Nov. 15.—The following cablegram was received by George Sylvester Viereck from ex-Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany, now at Doorn, Holland, in which the former emperor brands as "absolute fiction" articles which declared he had received passports for his native land and was about to return home:

"Thanks for kind information. Article in Brussels Gazette absolute fiction. No wireless station here. No communication with Nauen. No cipher telegrams received.

"Return of crown prince prepared and executed clandestinely without my knowledge. Dutch government, informed by him of permission to return accorded by German government, made no objection.

"I received farewell letter from from crown prince dated Nov. 8, 1923. After he had passed the frontier, no courier arrived here.

"Dr. Kan lunched as usual once every month with me, giving me first detailed information about negotiations for crown prince's return to Germany between him, Dutch and German governments. I am totally uninformed about any movement intended to restore monarchy on Dec. 4.

"Had I been consulted beforehand, I would have objected to crown prince's return at this moment, when Germany is rent by internal dissensions.

"Situation in Doorn unchanged. In absolute peace and confidently hope. (Signed) William I, R."

LEGAL FORM ALL THAT'S NECESSARY

New York, Nov. 15.—The trial of Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes' suit for separation from her millionaire husband will be resumed next Monday before Justice Wasservogel in the supreme court, a postponement being allowed in order that Mr. Stokes' new counsel, I. Gainsburg, might familiarize himself with the evidence submitted at the former trial. So far as legal separation is concerned, Mrs. Stokes' will win this virtually by default, as her husband's attorneys have declared that the defendant desires separation as much as the plaintiff. The real contest of the trial will revolve around Mrs. Stokes' efforts to get $35,000 a year permanent alimony and her dower right of $2,333,000—one-third of her husband's estate—together with the custody of their two children.

MAIL CAR BURNS

Toledo, Nov. 15.—A loss that probably will total thousands of dollars was sustained when a 60-foot mail car attached to a Baltimore and Ohio train burned at Roachton, six miles south of here. Postmaster George Lathrop was unable to give an estimate of the loss other than to say it would be in the thousands.

MRS. LUPTON DIES AT HOME OF SON

Mrs. Carrie Lupton, 65, widow of Charles M. Lupton, and a former Xenian, died at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Lupton, in Indianapolis, Ind., Thursday morning, according to word received here by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Whitmer.

Death was due to a sudden attack of heart trouble from which she had previously been a sufferer. Mrs. Lupton lived here on Maple Street for many years until about ten years ago when she moved to Dayton with her husband, who died there about 13 months ago. At the death of Mr. Lupton, Mrs. Lupton went to Indianapolis to make here home with her son.

Surviving is only the one son, Marshall of Indianapolis, and two brothers, Ellis Drake and Professor Lou Drake, also former Xenians. Funeral services will be held in Indianapolis Saturday afternoon.

GRAYSON SEEKS RACE

Nov. 15.—Admiral Grayson issued a challenge to any and all American three-year-olds to meet My Own at Prince George park, Bowie, in a special race of one mile and a quarter or farther, $10,000 a side, on or after Nov. 24. He particularly wants to bring to the post Zev and In Memoriam against his colt.

MILLIONAIRE BARBER DEAD

Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 15.—John Rau, the millionaire barber, is dead. In spite of his million he kept on shaving to the end. Rau collapsed just before reaching the shop, where he would have earned another $5, his day's wage, and tips. Rau did not make his million dollars shaving. His savings from singes and haircuts and once-over scrapings were invested in local real estate.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture. You can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

Many Have Appendicitis

Don't Know It

Much so-called stomach trouble is really chronic appendicitis. This can often be relieved by simple glycerine backthorn bark, etc., as mixed in Adlerika. Most medicines act only on lower bowel but Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and removes all gasses and poisons. Brings out matter you never thought was in your system. Excellent for obstinate constipation. Sayre and Hemphill, 8 South Detroit Street.

Ohio State. Time 2:30 o'clock.

Central High School students were sustaining their breath Thursday in anticipation of the field dedication day football game between Coan Earl Burner's warriors and London High at Edwin B. Cox Memorial Athletic Field Friday afternoon.

When the playing field is dedicated to the memory of former Superintendent Cox, for 30 years head of the Xenia schools, students are expected to properly celebrate. Athletic authorities at the school have arranged a fitting program to mark the dedication exercises which will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Students will march from Central High School to the gridiron in a body, and under capable direction will burst into songs and yells designed to inspire the blue and white gridders to victory. Guests of the school will include pupils of the O. S. and S. O. Home and the Cadet Band from that institution is expected to add considerable musical gaiety.

A blue and white rocking chair along the sidelines within the sanctity of the playing field itself, will be provided for Mrs. Emma Zell, chosen "Mother" of the football squad, who will occupy this place of honor. R. Hayes Hamilton creator of the Hamilton Travelogues, who was a member of the original committee of graduates that conceived and started the athletic field fund, will deliver a short address preceding the game.

Every blue and white athlete available for duty last week, is in top form for the contest, as no additional cripples were added to the casualty list in last week's encounter. Playing with the encouragement of a victory back of them, Captain Fuller and his henchmen are showing better spirit than any time during the season. They are fully determined to beat the dedication jinx by walloping Coach Lynn's London outfit and avenging a scoreless tie that marred the record of last year's eleven. To that will require real football and that is what Burner's eleven is promising for Friday afternoon. The waiste will blow at three o'clock with Dave Reese, popular official, in charge of the game. Considering the local interest and the promised delegation from London one of the largest crowds to ever attend a high school game here is expected.

EAST SIDE ELEVEN AND TROY MIAMIS WILL MEET SUNDAY

Something is bound to happen when the East Side Athletic Club football team meets the Troy Miamis at Dickerson Park here Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Neither team has been defeated this season and unless a tie results one of these teams is scheduled to have its record broken in this contest.

The Troy aggregation is a veteran footballing combination, having furnished star football teams for several years. The Trojans now claim the colored independent championship of the state, about which the East Side eleven will have something to say Sunday.

Several former Wilberforce University stars are enrolled in the lineup of the Miamis, and the visitors are particularly boastful of their quarterback, William Gentry, who is said to be able to pass a football from one end of the field to the other. He will be watched sharply for such tactics Sunday.

The East Side eleven, fresh from its victory over the American Guards at Dayton last Sunday, expects to be in top form for the battle. The team will meet Tuesday evening at seven o'clock at the home of W. O. Rickman, manager, and will take the field for the game Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

CEDARVILLE AND CAPITAL ELEVEN TO PLAY SATURDAY

Local fans will have more than usual interest in the Cedarville-Capital football game to be played in Columbus Saturday afternoon.

Local interest in the fortunes of the Cedarville College eleven, on which three former Central High stars are players, is enhanced by the fact that Jerry L. Katherman, former Central High Coach, is mentoring the Columbus eleven.

The Lutherans are putting out their first football team this season for 25 years, and have been attended by more than the customary first-year luck. The team has lost a majority of its games but has displayed a fine fighting spirit that has won it instant recognition.

Capital lost to Ashland 33 to 0 Monday, an interesting feature of the battle being the fact that Katherman and Coach Meredith of Ashland opposed each other on the gridiron when Katherman was tackle at Ohio Northern University and Meredith was earning his letter at Denison.

Cedarville College lost to Ashland, 45 to 0 a week ago, which gives comparative scores on the teams. Cedarville again lost to Antioch last Saturday 6 to 3, but Coach Talcott is grooming his athletes hard this week for a comeback against the Katherman coached eleven. The outcome will be watched with interest.

OPERATORS DENY CHARGE

Philadelphia, Oct. 16.—Absolute denial that the committee of anthracite coal operators had refused to "clean its own house" was made by Samuel D. Warriner, chairman, in a letter to Governor Pinchot. The letter was prompted by a statement made by the governor Tuesday in a letter to governors of 29 states. The statement charged the operators had been given every opportunity to correct abuses in the industry and had refused.

When direct examination of Forbes was concluded, he was turned over to Major General John F. Ryan, counsel for the committee, for cross-examination.

Forbes in his testimony gave the lie specifically to Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer, physician to the late President Harding; Mortimer and James M. Williams of Philadelphia, his chief accusers. Every accusation made against him by Mortimer in his sensational testimony was taken up in detail and branded as false.

Mortimer, Williams and others were charged by Forbes with conspiring to bring about his destruction. He proposed to present proof to the committee that they had given perjured testimony. The committee asked to have it presented later.

When Forbes had entered a general denial of General Sawyer's testimony it was suggested that perhaps General Sawyer had been mistaken. Forbes quickly retorted, "Mistaken? No, he's not mistaken. He just told a lie."

Forbes denied specifically that he received $5,000 from Mortimer in Chicago, or $1,000 or $1,500 in Washington, or that Mortimer had paid any of his expenses on the trip they took to the Pacific coast together in the summer of 1922.

Denying Mortimer's testimony that there were wild drinking parties on the western trip, Forbes declared dramatically: "Gentlemen, I know of no drinking on that trip except by Mr. Mortimer."

of Forbes counter-charges.

General O'Ryan then resumed his cross examination of Forbes.

"Did you have an altercation with Mortimer on Labor Day, 1922?" O'Ryan asked.

"I don't recall," Forbes replied.

"Did you have any altercation that time?"

"Yes Sir, I had a few words with him."

"Was this about Mrs. Mortimer?"

"It may have been."

"Isn't it a fact that Mortimer came into his apartment at the Wardman Park hotel and found you there with Mrs. Mortimer?"

"Yes, and the doors were wide open."

"How long were you there?"

"About two minutes."

"Was this altercation during the time when you suspected Mortimer of representing the Southernland Construction Company?"

"It was during the period I suspected him of bootlegging activities," replied Forbes, as the crowd of spectators laughed.

Washington, Nov. 15.—A sensational development in the investigation of the veterans' bureau was a threat made by a spectator against Elias H. Mortimer, chief accuser of Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director.

The threat, made during a recess, was brought to the attention of the committee, with the result that Chairman Reed publicly warned that he would seek to indict anyone threatening or attempting to intimidate witnesses. Forbes and his counsel, James S. Esby Smith, denied any responsibility for the incident.

VICTORY FOR WALTON

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 15.—The Oklahoma senate court of impeachment decided that Governor J. C. Walton shall be tried on charges involving improper proclamation of martial law. A motion to suspend action on these charges was defeated. The vote was a victory for the governor. It means he will have an opportunity to present his defense of these charges based on alleged outrages on the part of the Ku Klux Klan.

FELLOWSHIP NEEDED IN WORLD TODAY KIWANIS TOLD

Reverend Edward Berger, who is giving a series of lectures on psychology under the auspices of The Ministerial Association of this city, addressed the Xenia Kiwanis Club on "Relationship," at the regular meeting at the Elks' Club Wednesday afternoon.

The speaker treating his subject scientifically and in its practical bearing on human society. He gave as a synonym for fellowship the word "together."

He showed how great a work members of the Kiwanis Club, and organizations like it, are doing and can do, both individually and as clubs, in helping to establish right relationships every where on earth where their influence reaches. The membership is built up on the idea of fellowship among its members.

Fellowship enters into all things in which the world is interested to-day, declared Mr. Berger. He thought it vital that America get in the game and do her part in world problems, and that there is no such thing as "magnificent aloofness."

"We must meet on common ground," he said, going into the immigration question and referred to the "melting pot" in commendatory terms but wanted to know "what about the pot that doesn't melt?"

He spoke of the millions of foreigners who want to become loyal citizens and in that wish challenge Americans to establish right relationship with them, not in "high brow" fashion but out of an earnest desire to share with them our American heritage.

In conclusion, the speaker said, "Today, we can speak out loudly of God. Business men are willing to listen. That is one good thing the war did." Attention was called to "Fundamentals of Prosperity" by Roger Babson, the greatest statistician of the country, in which he tells us there is no safety in our wealth unless we share it and that all business is based on confidence in each other; but that confidence is a matter of character and character is strongest, when backed by religious principles.

Coach Ernest Godfrey of Wittenberg College and E. C. Janson of Springfield were guests at the meeting, bringing an invitation to members of the Kiwanis Club to be guests of the college at the Wittenberg-Mt. Union football game, Saturday at the new Springfield stadium.

A. L. Regan, D. E. Anderson and E. D. Beatty have been elected into membership of the club.

CHARGED WITH RECKLESS DRIVING AFTER ACCIDENT

J. S. O'Brien, giving his address as Yellow Springs, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving following an accident at Columbia and Fountain Avenues, Springfield, Wednesday.

O'Brien driving west on Columbia street, crashed into a machine going south on Limestone street, driven by E. I. Baker, of 309 North Belmont avenue, Springfield. Baker's machine was overturned and the occupants thrown out but sustained no injuries. Baker's wife and other women were in the car.

CYNTHIA'S CURIOSITY Chapter 14

Dale Hoff's remark about Lee lingered annoyingly in Cynthia's mind. Its significance grew bigger and bigger, and when she could not endure its torment any longer she went to the telephone and called Hoff up.

"Hello, Dale!" she drawled enticingly. "Doing anything tonight? Come on up and amuse me, I'm frightfully bored with life."

"Lonely, perhaps?" Dale ventured. "Heard from Lee?"

"Heaven forbid; Lee's disgusting when he gets on one of those fishing spells. I can't abide him. Every time I think of those foul smelling fish I saturate myself with perfume—$10 an ounce from Paris."

"All right, I'll be up. Love to come. Which had I better bring—candy or perfume?" Dale retorted.

"Both—for safety." Cynthia answered, feigning a yawn into the telephone receiver. "And come soon. I hate waiting."

She slipped the receiver back softly on the hook and strolled over languidly to a deep cushioned chair. Some magazines lay on the table and Cynthia picked up one and turned the pages idly, her tall slender figure reclining against the chair's comfortable softness. She wanted to be amused. She wanted someone to make a fuss over her and she knew that Dale Hoff could do it quite satisfactorily.

As she turned the pages of the magazine a picture suddenly attracted her attention. It was only an illustration for one of the short stories, yet it claimed Cynthia's eyes the second she perceived it. The picture was of a girl in knickerbockers seated on a large rock, fishing in the glossy smoothness of a woodland brook.

Cynthia fingered the corner of the page and frowned. She was thinking of Lee and his absurd passion for fishing. Also she became suddenly conscious of the fact that some women enjoy fishing too. To Cynthia it was an unbelievably disgusting fact, yet it remained a fact in spite of her own feelings.

She turned the page over then turned back quickly to look at the picture again. It annoyed her, yet it compelled her attention. Something about it seemed persistently suggestive of Lee's long silence. Why had he not answered her letter? Dale Hoff's question of the night before, "What's the attraction?" rose again in her thoughts seeking an answer.

She moved uneasily in the deep cushioned chair and brought the two covers of the magazine together with a fierce little slam. Then she tucked it carefully beneath a number of magazines on the table as if she hoped to shut out the picture from her thoughts.

She got up and went over to a small oval gilt mirror and surveyed her yellow gold hair, touching it here and there with clever fingers.

If Lee intended to be stubborn and ignore her, then she was going to amuse herself in other directions. Dale Hoff had always appealed to her more or less and she knew Dale welcomed Lee's absence as an opportunity not to be neglected. He could be divinely devoted whenever Lee gave him an opportunity. So it gave Cynthia a chance to retaliate to back in Dale's admiration, knowing that Lee was always fiendishly jealous. She would write to him again, and tell him not to trouble himself about hurrying home that she was finding plenty of ways to amuse herself in other directions.

Yet as Cynthia waited impatiently for Dale, her thoughts dwelt upon the letter which he had received from Lee and she wondered if there was anything else which Lee had written that Dale had not told her. She would not confess it to herself, yet it was primarily to find out about Lee's letter that she had urged Dale to come and see her.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub Good Old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

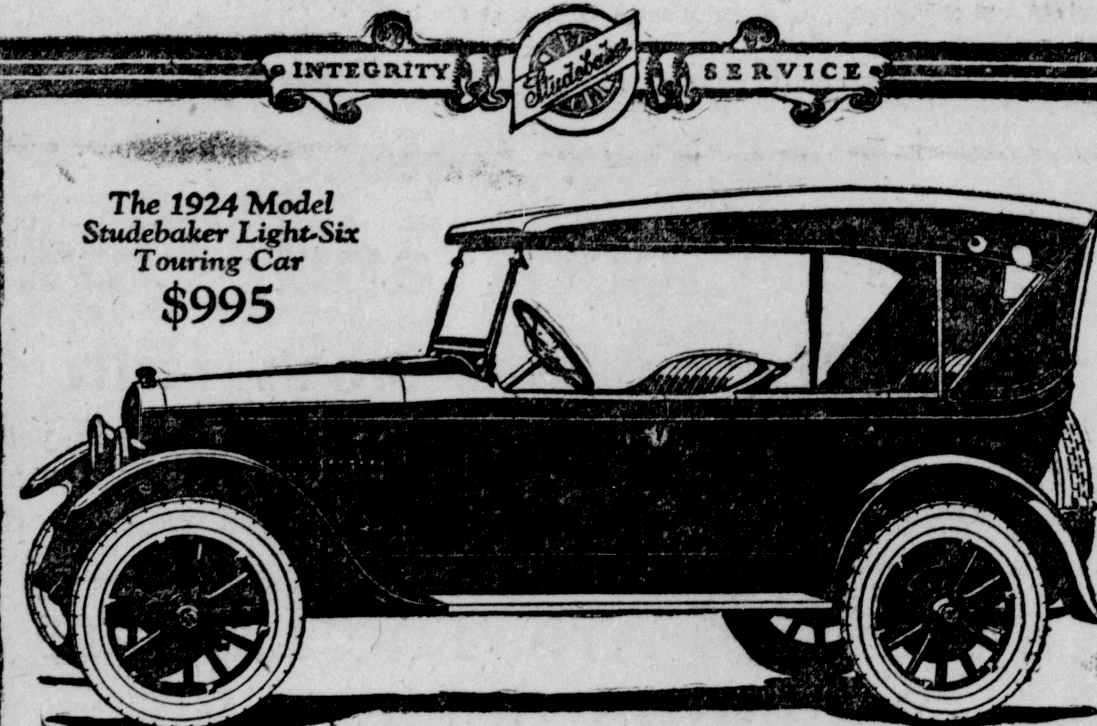

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

The 1924 Model
Studebaker Light-Six
Touring Car
$995

The unprecedented popularity of the Studebaker Light-Six can be traced to the fact that it represents a degree of automobile value that the public has sought for years.

It is built complete in the great Studebaker factories.

By manufacturing complete motors, transmissions, axles, frames, bodies, tops, castings, forgings, and stampings, parts-makers' profits are eliminated from costs, and one profit only is included in Studebaker prices.

POWER & COMFORT

FORBES SAID TO BE "ONE OF GANG OF CONSPIRATORS" AGAINST U.S.

HE IS PASSED BY DEFENDANT IN HIS DENIAL

Major General O'Ryan Says He Can Prive All Accusations

Washington, Nov. 15.—Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director of the United States Veterans Bureau, was declared to be "one of the gang of conspirators who were tied together neck and low to defraud the government," by Major General John F. O'Ryan, government counsel, in an opening statement today to the senate investigating committee.

O'Ryan declared he would prove the truth of all the charges made by Elias H. Mortimer, of Philadelphia, the star government witness, which were branded as "lies" by Forbes. O'Ryan also called upon Forbes' counsel to produce proof that government witnesses had been brow beaten into perjury.

"We will give the committee a list of witnesses who must be summoned to prove the charges of subornation of perjury and perjury," replied Col. James S. Easby-Smith, Forbes' counsel.

"I will also furnish a list of documents which would prove Forbes innocent and which have been withheld by government counsel."

In his statement, General O'Ryan said: "Yesterday in the cross examination of Colonel Forbes he made charges that the testimony thus far introduced, which impeaches his character, is not only false but that it is the result of subornation of perjury in the coercion of witnesses."

"He also charged that documents and papers which would have indicated the innocence of Colonel Forbes were withheld by counsel for the committee."

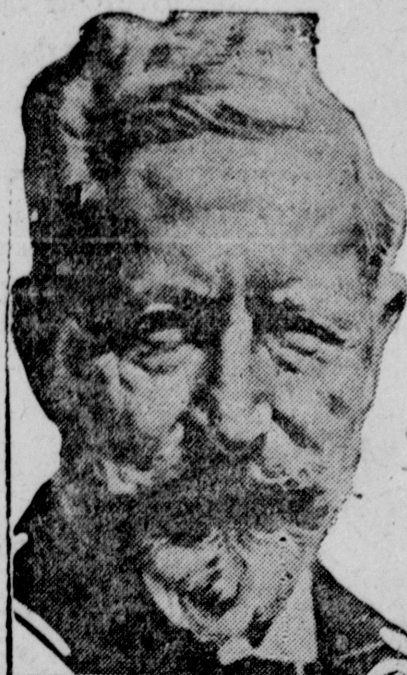

"I did not wish at that time to bandon the cross examination of the witness to go into collateral matter. It is a well known recourse of embarrassed witnesses to distract attention from themselves by attacking others."

"Colonel Forbes I regard as irresponsible. I expect, however, to prove much more than irresponsibility in his conduct of office and in his lack of care of the disabled. I expect to prove convincingly the whole truth of Mortimer's charge that Colonel Forbes was one of the gang of conspirators who were tied together neck and low to defraud the government."

"But Colonel Easby-Smith is an officer of the court and is responsible, and I ask him here and now if he has any proof of any improper action toward any witness upon my part or upon the part of Major Arnold (assistant counsel)."

Colonel Easby-Smith said he did not need to say that he would submit proof to support every word

FORMER KAISER
THEN AND NOW

Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm, living for five years in exile in Holland, is reported to have received passports permitting him and his entourage to return to Germany. Brussels reports a royalist coup, to attempt to restore him to the throne, is set for December 4. The upper picture shows Wilhelm as he appears now, bearded and aged. The lower picture shows him in the height of his power in the World War.

LAW PENALIZING EMPLOYERS VALID

Columbus, Nov. 15.—The Ohio supreme court held constitutional the law penalizing employers 50 per cent of an award made by the state industrial commission if the employer does not pay the award within 10 days. Judges Allen and Wanamaker held the law to be valid, while Judges Jones, Robinson, Matthias and Day and Chief Justice Marshall held it to be unconstitutional. This is the second time to two vote holding a law constitutional since 1912. It formerly had been a bare majority as now exists in the United States supreme court. This circumstance arises from the provision in the state constitution requiring all but one of the seven judges to concur in pronouncing a statute unconstitutional.

INCIDENT NEARLY RESULTED IN WAR

London, Nov. 15.—An official inquiry into the attack on Colonel Kristich, which resulted in the Yugoslavian ultimatum to Bulgaria and an appeal to The Hague tribunal to assess damages, arose from the jealousy of two Bulgarian suitors of a servant girl, according to a dispatch from Sofia. The dispatches state that the servant girl was being courted by the colonel's soldier servant. The two Bulgarians, after a drinking bout, attacked the soldier. Colonel Kristich intervened and was struck on the head. The Bulgarians fled. The incident nearly caused another Balkan war.

MOTHERS BLAMED; GIRLS LEADING BOYS ASTRAY IS CHARGE

Boston, Nov. 15.—It's the girls who are sowing the wild oats nowadays. And, what's more, they're leading the boys astray. Years ago the boys used to get spanked for reading "Diamond Dick." Now girls are reading suggestive novels and magazine stories and nothing is done about it. That's the opinion of Mrs. Charles H. Remington, a vice president of the National Parent-Teachers' association, of Providence. In her address before the New England Association of School Superintendents at Harvard university she told the educators they were only half doing their work if they failed to utilize the power of parents. "Mothers are falling down on the job," said Mrs. Remington, and she's a mother herself. "They are passing the bringing up of the child to someone else."

PITTSBURGH POLICE SEEKING WOMAN CROOK AND COMPANION

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 13.—A fashionable dressed woman with "Ritzzy manners" and a male companion, a prosperous looking professional man, are being sought throughout the state today by police investigating a $10,000 diamond robbery in Grays, one of the city's most exclusive jewelry stores, late yesterday.

The robbery occurred when a man distracted the attention of a clerk showing the woman a treaty of expensive diamond rings. When the clerk again turned, tray and woman were missing and in the excitement following, the man, too, escaped. The couple are believed professional "pennyweighters," probably well known throughout the country.

RED ACTIVITY INCREASES IN GERMAN NATION

France Not Alarmed Over Threat Not to Observe Versailles Treaty

Berlin, Nov. 15.—Red activity increased in Germany today. Forty red leaders were arrested in various places charged with agitating strikes.

Paris, Nov. 15.—Even if the Allied Ambassadors' Council decides not to impose any new penalties upon Germany, France will not act alone against the Germans, considering that occupation of the Ruhr and Rhineland is sufficient guarantee of safety and of reparations payments, it was learned in authoritative political circles today.

There are indications that France will not press the allied powers to agree to occupation of Hamburg as a new sanction in retaliation for the following acts by Berlin:

1—Allowing the former crown prince to return.

2—Reported decision to cease all reparations payments and disregard the Versailles treaty.

3—Refusal to agree to re-establishment of allied military control.

There is a conflict of opinion as to whether the French occupational forces will be aided or hindered if Germany cuts off Rhineland and Ruhr, allowing them freedom to follow their own future political, financial and economic course. The chief fear arises from unemployment and lack of food which may result in riots and continued disorders.

A foreign office communique explained the failure of the negotiations with Hugo Stinnes at Dusseldorf to increase industrial and mining production.

Stinnes attempted to insert political clauses in the proposed agreement engaging the allies and Germans to reopen reparations negotiations. He refused to sign a purely technical agreement.

London, Nov. 15.—The complete cessation of every kind of reparations by Germany was semi-officially announced last night, according to a dispatch to the Central News from Berlin.

This action was taken on the ground that the treaty of Versailles had been violated by France and that therefore it could not be observed by Germany.

Berlin, Nov. 15.—Germany's attempt at a parliamentary dictatorship is universally declared an utter failure.

Nothing constructive has been accomplished by placing the extraordinary powers in the hands of Chancellor Stresemann. These powers automatically ceased with the withdrawal of the Socialists from the Stresemann cabinet.

The reichstag has been called to convene next Tuesday for the avowed purpose of burying that dictatorship and digging the grave of Stresemann as chancellor. The nationalists on one hand and the Socialists on the other both expect to cause Stresemann's fall Tuesday or Wednesday with a vote of lack of confidence.

All the political parties are dissatisfied with Stresemann. He refuses to resign, however, and declares that he will stick to his post, preferring to "fall in open battle" in the reichstag.

It is believed that the next step will be the creation of a triumvirate, in which General Von Seeckt will possibly be military dictator, but with a non-military man as chancellor.

Abandonment of the Ruhr and Rhineland by the present government is considered as sealing Stresemann's fate. This decision of the chancellor is arousing intense indignation. The Democratic party expects to withdraw its members from the cabinet, and it is believed that the Centrists will shortly do likewise. Action of this sort by these parties would leave Stresemann a solitary figure in the political storms, and it is not believed he can weather the tempest for more than a few days.

PROBE WELCOMED

Steubenville, O., Nov. 15.—Investigation of alleged laxity in law enforcement here, for which city and county officials are held responsible, may be extended to include the entire county. This is the consensus of opinion following receipt of word from Columbus that Governor Donahue had requested Attorney General Crabbe to order a special grand jury to probe conditions which made possible the "murder of a dry agent, the shooting of another and the dynamiting of the home of a third without apparent attempt at prosecution." Mayor Frank A. Hawkins, when informed of the governor's action, said: "I am glad to see it come. We have the best city in the state and the grand jury report will show it."

GREEK KING LIKELY TO LOSE THRONE

King George and Queen Elizabeth

King George of Greece has agreed to comply with the demand of the Military Republican faction that he leave Greece for 60 days, pending the clearing of the general situation. It is not believed he will return, for General Pangalos, former Commander-in-chief of the Greek army, is authority for the statement that the Military-Republican group has demanded an immediate plebiscite to determine whether King George will be banished, the throne abolished and a republic proclaimed. The majority of the Greek people are declared to favor a republic. King George is shown here with his wife, Queen Elizabeth.

GENERAL DROP IN BANK RATES AFTER HOLIDAYS IS EXPECTED

Washington, Nov. 15.—A general drop in bank rates as a result of the swelling volume of credit and high reserve ratios at the banks is expected to be authorized after the holidays, it was learned here today.

The rediscount rates of federal reserve banks have been under detailed study at the present meeting of governors of federal reserve banks, federal reserve agents and members of the Federal Reserve Board.

This and other questions will be carefully weighed before the session ends tomorrow. While no official statement has been forthcoming from the conference, every indication points to lowering of the rediscounts.

Reviewing the financial situation the bankers have found banks of the country are more prosperous than at any time in history. They have met extraordinary demands for credits to harvest and market this year's crops. A large volume of credit to the agriculturists and to institutions financing them, soon will be finding its way back into the banks. The bank reserves thereby will be still further increased. Credit also extending their volume to industrial and manufacturing groups also will be flowing back into the banks, as business men clean up their seasonal distribution of products and repay their borrowings.

Officials of the reserve board said that to meet seasonal demands in recent months the banks of the larger cities have increased their loans by $1,000,000,000.

Most of these loans have been negotiated by commercial and industrial enterprises.

BRITISH CAMPAIGN OPENS IN DEBATE IN PARLIAMENT

London, Nov. 15.—Former Premier H. M. Asquith, in a speech today, charged that the Baldwin government has brought Great Britain to the lowest ebb in the councils of Europe.

"The calling of a general election is unfair," added the ex-premier. "Restoration of Europe is the only remedy for unemployment."

London, Nov. 15.—The British political campaign really opens today with debate in the House of Commons upon the motion censuring the government introduced Tuesday by Ramsay MacDonald, Laborite and leader of the opposition on the floor of the lower chamber. The motion has deep political significance for it gave the leaders of all parties, an opportunity to air their views upon the Baldwin cabinet's policies.

Most of the party leaders in Commons signified their intention of speaking.

Disensions are reported in the ranks of the Tories.

It is evident the Labor party has been caught at a disadvantage because they lack funds to carry on an aggressive fight. The sudden decision of the government to hold a general election within less than a month found the Laborite "war chest" depleted. The Liberal party (now reunited after years of factional fighting) is the most confident of all. They are making their campaign cry: "This is a bread and butter election."

EFFECT OF EXILE ON PRINCE SHOWN

Berlin, Nov. 15.—Former Crown Prince Wilhelm, who is at his home in Oels, Silesia, declined to discuss politics with press representatives and other callers.

"I am only a young farmer trying to get along," said the prince. "My heart is full of joy at being here, and it would be unfair to take advantage of me by insisting on cross-examination while I am so excited at being again with my family. When I first set my foot on German soil I felt like getting down and kissing the earth of my beloved fatherland. The silent prayer I sent to heaven at that moment was the most fervent and most thankful of my life."

The prince has grown quite grey in his exile and his features are lined with fine wrinkles that, under his healthy, bronzed skin, show what the worries of five years of banishment have done to him.

FOUR HUNTERS KILLED WHEN TRAIN STRIKES AUTO NEAR NEWARK

Columbus Men Meet Instant Death Early Thursday Morning—All Were Employed in Pan-Handle Shops At Ohio Capital.

Newark, O., Nov. 15.—Four men, all of Columbus, forming a hunting party, were killed at Frazesburg this morning when struck by a Pennsylvania train.

The engine of the train was derailed.

A westbound Pennsylvania passenger train, running at high speed and in a heavy fog, struck their Ford automobile at Frazesburg, 15 miles east of here about 6:30 o'clock this morning. The men were Harry B. Watson, Oscar Norville, J. E. Turner and Lewis Coombs, all of Columbus. The men were employed in the Columbus panhandle shops.

Within two hours after the accident Dr. L. E. Grimes, coroner of Muskingum county, arrived from Zanesville and viewed the remains. The body of Harry Watson had been carried on the pilot of the engine a distance of about 300 yards before the train could be stopped, due to its great speed, which was perhaps 70 miles an hour.

The coroner gave orders that the bodies should be removed to the undertaking establishment of George

Holtz in Frazesburg and there await further instructions from the family who were promptly notified.

The scene of the accident was between elevations of ground and in addition to this the heavy fog made impossible to see the train.

Official investigation by Dr. L. E. Grimes, coroner of Muskingum county, revealed that Henry Campbell was not among the dead nor was he with the party. The name that was originally given as Campbell, is Lewis Coombs of Columbus and he was the owner of the car.

Willis says he will investigate law operations

Bridgeport, O., Nov. 15.—Why the watchful eye of inspectors does not prevent such financial disasters as the Dollings smashup and the closing of the National Bank of Barnesville yesterday, is puzzling Frank B. Willis, senior United States Senator from Ohio, who was here last night.

"In connection with the heavy losses of Ohio investors through the stock manipulation of the Dollings Company and the recent big bank failures, it seems to me that both the Blue Sky department of the state and the Inspection Department of the federal government must be somewhat wrong or else such defalcations could not be possible," said Senator Willis.

"It is a crime that the savings of people, patiently and laboriously earning, should become the plunder of those who seem to have no regard for their positions of trust. It is significant that within the limits of Ohio in the past year, there have been three failures of important national banks involving hundreds of thousands of dollars. If this is the fault of the inspection department, I propose to find it out. If there is a fault in the law rather than in the administration of it, I propose to find that out and if possible to secure an amendment to it. It looks to me however, as if the law is all right but that somebody has been gambling with the peoples' hard earned money."

The key to the whole situation, as seen by the treasury department, is the flow of capital into productive enterprises. At present, it is emphasized, the extreme rates of taxation, encourage money to seek non-productive channels that will enable it to evade taxation.

The treasury authorities denounced as "entirely fallacious" the charge that it was proposed to take too much off the rich and too little off the poor or people of moderate incomes. Supporting this position this explanation was made:

Of the total of $323,000,000 reductions Secretary Mellon recommends, $100,100,000 comes under the head of taxes on telegrams, telephones, leased wires, theatre admissions and nuisance taxes. That leaves $222,900,000 to be cut off in income taxes. Now, of the $222,900,000, the reduction on incomes up to $5,000 a year would amount to $92,750,000. On incomes from $5,000 up to $10,000 the cut would aggregate $52,100,000. This makes a total of $144,850,000 out of the total reductions of $222,900,000. In other words, about seventy per cent of the reductions would be on incomes of $10,000 or less. Less than five per cent or $5,765,000, would come off incomes of $100,000 or more.

Even if all the cut was to be taken off the rich, it was said, the result would be beneficial to people with smaller incomes through the effect in reducing the cost of living, stimulating employment, etc. Secretary Mellon believes the day is coming when a sales tax will take the place of many of the levies now imposed.

TO PRESENT CLEVELAND CLAIM

Cleveland, Nov. 15.—Cleveland's claims of eligibility to be host to the Republican national convention next June will be presented by Congressman Theodore E. Burton at Washington today before the subcommittee of the Republican national committee. Burton left for Washington with the assurance that Clevelanders can raise the $125,000 necessary to bring the event to this city. Carmi Thompson, Secretary of State Brown and others will aid Burton.

Several posses were in pursuit.

Kansas City, Kan. Nov. 15.—Two officials of the Argentine State Bank today were held up and robbed of $20,000 in cash being taken to the bank to meet a payroll of the Santa Fe Railroad Company.

The bandits executed the robbery without a shot being fired.

INVESTIGATE ALLEGATIONS

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 15.—A score of agents in the Intelligence Bureau of the Internal Revenue Department are here today to investigate alleged shipments of "real beer" from certain Cincinnati breweries, upon which it is said the breweries paid to two Cincinnatians $6 a barrel for "protection."

PORTUGAL WITHOUT GOVERNMENT

London, Nov. 15.—Portugal was without a government today due to failure of Dr. Menex to form a cabinet, said a Central News dispatch from Lisbon today. It added that Alphonso Costa probably would be invited to try to form a new ministry.

XENIA CHICKENS RUNNING WILD

Chickens in Xenia are “running wild”!

So says Chief of Police M. E. Graham after answering the telephone several times each day to listen to the irate demands of some householders victimized by the wandering fowls.

Complaints now have come from all ends of town, the chickens apparently being no respecters of persons. Complainants say they pay little heed to the boundaries of their own backyards, dash primly from neighbors yards, and invade with marauding intent the confines of the neighbor's property.

Police are reminding owners of chickens that there is an ordinance regulating permitting chickens to run wild, and that prosecutions may follow complaints.

BARNESVILLE BANK WILL NOT RE-OPEN. SAY LOSS IS HIGH

Barnesville, O., Nov. 15.—The National Bank of Barnesville closed yesterday, following the death of Cashier O. P. Norris, will not be re-opened according to officials of the institution.

Estimates of the amount of the shortage go as high as $500,000, much of which is said to have been lost through stock market speculation. The stockholders say they expect to be assessed for the full amount of their holdings as a means of helping protect the depositors.

Some of the largest stockholders declare the fact that they were the victims of misplaced confidence in the dead cashier, is a bigger blow to them than the actual loss of the money.

DEBS IMPROVED

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 15.—Eugene V. Debs, veteran Socialist leader, who was stricken with a heart attack late Friday, was reported very much improved today by attending physicians. He was able to sit up in bed for the first time since his collapse nearly a week ago. No plans were under consideration for a resumption of his speaking tour, however, and a complete rest was ordered for him.

REFUSE TO PROSECUTE BIGAMOUS HUSBAND

Mrs. Horstman, wife of E. F. Horstman, who refused to prosecute her bigamous husband.

When E. F. Horstman, wealthy Chicago broker, was arrested on a charge of bigamy neither of his wives would prosecute him. Both declared he had been a loving husband and had provided well for them, in separate establishments. Both begged for his release, but the State's Attorney refused declaring he would prosecute Horstman himself. Wife No. 2 put up $2,000 bail to secure his release.

Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest

SONNET TO A GOLF BALL
Contrary women, saying yes for no
Not more contrary is than you,
White dimpled ball!
Of life's mad, wilful things, you lead them all.
Straight to the threshold flies the driven snow,
Where whisks the Master Wind, the pure flakes go;
But where man bids you drop, you will not fall.
Much deviltry you hold for one so small,
His fondest dreams for sport you overthrow.
Perverse you are, perverse you are,
dollar kin.

NARCOTIC LAW A FAILURE

Washington, Nov. 15.—Physicians and druggists who live on the human misery represented in 1,000,000 cases of narcotic addiction in this country should be jailed instead of fined, Dr. W. G. Somerville of Memphis, Tenn., told the convention of Southern Medical association. Dr. Somerville declared the Harrison narcotic law to be practically a failure and called on the opium producing nations of the earth to restrict the output of this drug, from which morphine, heroin and codeine are derived.

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

Volumes have been written upon the value of breathing exercises. Many exaggerated statements have been made as to what can be accomplished through deep breathing. Nevertheless, it must be definitely understood that full deep breaths, which expand the lungs to their fullest capacity, and are taken at frequent intervals, are of great value.

Almost any vigorous exercise will enforce deep breathing, and there is no question as to the benefit of the involuntary or spontaneous inhalation and exhalation thus induced. Running and wrestling are types of very vigorous athletic exercises that will compel one to breathe deeply and fully and will insure a full lung development without special breathing exercises. And this is more especially true if much exercise of this character is taken regularly, day after day, all the year round.

But where the occupation and surroundings are such that one cannot indulge in such active pastimes, or where the time for such exercise is necessarily limited, frequent voluntary deep-breathing exercises can be highly commended. About the best example of the proper use of the diaphragm and the natural movement of the abdominal and dorsal region in correct breathing is illustrated in a small child. In nearly all cases an active healthy child will breathe properly, and by studying the movement of his abdomen in both standing and reclining positions you will find that as the breath is inhaled the abdominal region will expand. When the breath is exhaled this part of the body will contract or be drawn inward. This demonstrates very conclusively that the movement or expansion of the body in natural breathing is abdominal, and that the bony framework of the chest should not be involved except when taking full deep breaths, or when breathing hard from the effects of very vigorous exercise.

It is not at all necessary to go through a complicated system in order to learn proper methods of breathing, since this is comparatively simple if you are willing to make persistent efforts day after day until you are fitfully rewarded. If you simply acquire the habit of drawing in a deep full breath, at frequent intervals during the day, expanding first in the abdominal region, you will soon be able to breathe properly.

DOG COMES BACK; LOST FIVE YEARS

You've heard about the cat that "came back."

Well, this is about the dog that did the same remarkable feat. A collie, owned by Mrs. Julia Whittington of N. Detroit Street, disappeared five years ago last fall, and no trace of the canine could be found. Members of the family despaired of ever having their pet returned, but the other day "Peg" came back.

It is thought that the dog had been kept in Clark County since its disappearance, since a license tag bore the name of that county, with the year 1919. The dog was seen on the street last week by B. L. Whittington, who recognized her, but she did not notice her former master. "Peg" later found the Whittington residence and joyously greeted her long-lost family.

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

On last Saturday the Xenia High School football team journeyed to Troy and was there beaten in a game of football, the score being 13 to 0. Mr. Fred Baldwin had a nice little trip to the country this morning in his automobile. He received a telephone message that a party with an auto was stranded nine miles from town, and Fred went out to bring the machine to town for repairs. "The Telephone Girl" played at the Opera House Saturday night. The girls were numerous, pretty and very entertaining. Arrangements are being made for a big crowd of persons to come down from Yellow Springs to attend the Elks' minstrel performance on Thanksgiving night. A special car will be run on that occasion.

cannot cut the hen's head out of flannel from eye, you can trace a good pattern from a child's picture book which contains poultry pictures. This little egg cozy delights a child—and might, I should think, prove useful in tempting a child to eat a boiled egg he didn't want. A Home-Made Telephone Shield: These are for standing desk telephones. They are made in two parts, hinged together with a strip of cloth—in the shape of a screen. Measure your telephone, then cut two oblong pieces of cardboard which are high enough to cover it when stood on end. These pieces should be five inches wide. Cover each piece separately, with either silk, tapestry cloth or cretonne. Hinge them together with a narrow, folded strip of the same material. Sew a braid completely around the inside edges of the shield and the work is done. Stand the screen up to hide the ugly telephone. On the inside of this

Here are some new fancywork ideas which I have seen recently in city gift-shops: The New "Egg Cozy": In grandmother's day the teapot was covered with a "tea cozy" to keep it warm. Today we have similar coverings to put over boiled eggs. In serving. They are made in the shape of a hen's head, as follows: Cut two pieces of white flannel in the shape of a hen's head, then lay the two pieces together and go around (but not at bottom) with a buttonhole stitch, using red silk thread. This forms a sort of little hood that fits over an egg (which lies on a plate). Secure a small strip of red flannel on the hen's head (for a comb) and embroider a red eye. The entire article should be just large enough to fit snugly over an egg. If you

THIS little chart shows that for years Goodyear Tire prices have been kept below the average price level of all commodities. Goodyear Tires today cost 39% less than they did in 1914. And they are the best tires Goodyear ever made. This is a good time to buy Goodyears.

A Door-Stop for a Child's Room: In the downstairs rooms we like to have door stops of bronze, iron and other metals. But in the upstairs rooms—especially in the nursery—a "Dinah Door Stop" is a delight. This kind of stop is made out of a tall bottle. Fill the bottle with small stones to make it heavy. Cork it, then pad the neck with cotton till it is round, like a head; cover this head part with a part of an old black silk stocking and embroider a face on one side of this stocking. "Head." Now begin dressing the bottle with kerchief, sailor, black skirts and stuffed sleeves (to represent arms).

Child-birth

WHEN the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. E. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first child I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend.' I was very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., P. O. Box 518, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information, every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" sold by all drug stores.

THE IMPERIOUS URGE

There is a power in heredity that is often lost sight of. Through our bodies, our minds, our very souls, flows a life fluid that marks our destiny.

Through the ages silent forces are always at work in human beings. I read of an ignorant immigrant boy who came to America 23 years ago, alone, and not knowing a word of English—but with his soul set in fire. Today he is second in command of one of the greatest corporations in the world.

Why? Because in us, all, in greater or less degree, there are superior forces constantly beating against the lower man-made barriers of custom, convention and social tendencies. And these inborn, higher forces, being so much more potent and of course inbred, finally surpass and subdue all else. And so the man rises.

It is the imperious urge with which you were born that makes you want to become great and useful and famous.

I read the other day the interesting story of Jeanne Eagels, a noted actress, about whom all New York has been talking for over a year. This was what she has to say:

"If you are a child building a little house of blocks, you don't care much how it turns out. You know you're going to tumble it over in a minute or two. But if you are a grown man, building a house in which you expect to live your whole life—ah! that's different, isn't it? It's the same about work. If you do it only 'by the day,' you don't care much what you make of it. But if you intend to live and die with it, you put your best into it all the time. If that doesn't spur your ambition, nothing will."

Its imperious urge within us that makes us dissatisfied with what we are most of the time and keeps prodding us to attempt greater things.

If you believe yourself capable of big things, dare ahead and never let go of that belief!

NIMRODS VENTURE FORTH IN SEARCH OF GAME THURSDAY

Nimrods with shotguns and hunting accoutrement, deserted Xenia Thursday for the highways and byways.

They went with the sole ambition of making life miserable for the rabbits, which game experts say abound in Greene County forests this hunting season.

Thursday marked the first day of the open season on the cotton tails. With all the hunters in the woods Thursday bunnies that escaped the slaughter were expected to decrease their natural haunts and venture into the city, where there is a law against shooting.

During the period since October 1, 155 hunters have obtained licenses from Clerk of Courts Harvey Elam, his records show. Prior to that 235 obtained the necessary permits during this year from the same source, making a total of 393.

Township clerks also have the privilege of granting hunting licenses.

EUROPEAN SITUATION

France, it was reported from Paris, will not act alone if ambassadorial council fails to impose fresh penalties upon Germany, considering occupation of the Rhineland and Ruhr sufficient guarantee for security and reparations payments.

The British foreign office stated that owing to the election situation, England cannot take any new steps regarding foreign policy nor act upon Germany's reported determination to stop all reparations payments.

A report was received in London that Germany may formally repudiate the Versailles treaty.

Red activity is increasing in Germany and many arrests were made today.

SERIOUSLY INJURED IN DITCH CAVE-IN

Homer Sturgeon, 40, 235 Chestnut Street, city employee received internal injuries that may prove serious when he was caught in a cave-in of a ditch on Dayton Avenue Wednesday.

Sturgeon was working under Roy Jenks, superintendent of street work, in an attempt to locate a sewer, and had tunneled under the street when a passing motor truck jarred the earth and caused the cave-in. Another employee had just left the excavation when the accident occurred.

Sturgeon was caught in dirt up to his arm pits. Fellow employees extricated him. Dr. B. R. McClellan was called and the injured man was removed to his home. He was hurt internally but the gravity of his injuries cannot yet be determined.

TWO SUSPECTS ARE HELD BY POLICE

Cincinnati, Nov. 15.—Two suspects are being held by police authorities here in connection with the murder of Russell Soudy, Dayton, O., who was murdered near Lebanon, O., recently and his body thrown into the Little Miami river.

The names of the suspects will not be divulged until police hear from a former night clerk in a Dayton garage where Soudy rented a car the day he was slain. The clerk is in Tampa, Fla., and police have sent him photographs of the two men for identification.

SEEK LEGISLATION REGARDING ALIENS

Washington, Nov. 15.—Exclusion by law of Japanese and all other aliens ineligible to citizenship is believed certain of accomplishment at the coming session of congress, according to Senator Samuel M. Shortridge and Representative Arthur M. Free of California and other western members of congress. Senator Shortridge went to the white house and sought to enlist the aid of President Coolidge in the movement for the passage of such a provision. While prevented by custom from revealing the president's attitude, the senator apparently was pleased with the results of his conference.

Immediately after coming out of the president's office, Senator Shortridge announced that he will issue a call for an early meeting of all western senators and representatives to get behind the proposed exclusion provision. It is proposed to have the provision embodied in a section of the new immigration law.

STATE'S OFFER REJECTED

Columbus, Nov. 15.—City and school board officials will stand pat on prices of $600,000 and $320,000, respectively, for property sought for a new state office building. The state building commission was to offer $550,000 and $275,000 for the two pieces of property necessary. The city's property is the old city hall site on East State street. The school board property is in the rear of this, through to Town street.

GAS COMPANY ENJOINED

Detroit, Nov. 15.—Judge Clyde I. Webster issued an order restraining the Detroit City Gas company from putting into effect its proposed big increase in rates. The order was issued on the petition of the Detroit Times. Judge Webster said that he granted the order because the company had given the consumers only 24 hours' notice of the increase of rates.

WOMAN FATALLY BURNED

Youngstown, O., Nov. 15.—Mrs. Carrie Fingerhott was probably fatally burned when her clothing caught fire as a result of starting a coal fire with oil at her home near here.

DISAPPOINTED INVESTORS

One by one the illusions created by the promoters of the many quick-rich schemes that have afflicted the country vanish, and the trusting victims see plainly, but too late, how the gilded bait of fancy returns and the oily tongues of the stock and bond salesmen parted them from their hard-earned savings.

Don't be foolish! Large Returns and Safety are seldom found in the same investment. If they ever are, they will not be allowed to reach you. Ohio's Building Association offer you complete security, good returns, and conveniences not even approached when equal rates are paid.

Your money placed in this Association will be safe, and always ready for you.

EX-KAISER BRANDS REPORT OF RETURN AS PURE FICTION

New York, Nov. 15.—The following cablegram was received by George Sylvester Viereck from ex-Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany, now at Doorn, Holland, in which the former emperor brands as "absolute fiction" articles which declared he had received passports for his native land and was about to return home:

"Thanks for kind information. Article in Brussels Gazette absolute fiction. No wireless station here. No communication with Nauen. No cipher telegrams received.

"Return of crown prince prepared and executed clandestinely without my knowledge. Dutch government, informed by him of permission to return accorded by German government, made no objection.

"I received farewell letter from crown prince dated Nov. 8, 1923. After he had passed the frontier, no courier arrived here.

"Dr. Kan lunched as usual once every month with me, giving me first detailed information about negotiations for crown prince's return to Germany between him, Dutch and German governments. I am totally uninformed about any movement intended to restore monarchy on Dec. 4.

"Had I been consulted beforehand, I would have objected to crown prince's return at this moment, when Germany is rent by internal dissensions.

"Situation in Doorn unchanged. In absolute peace and confidently hope. (Signed) William I, R."

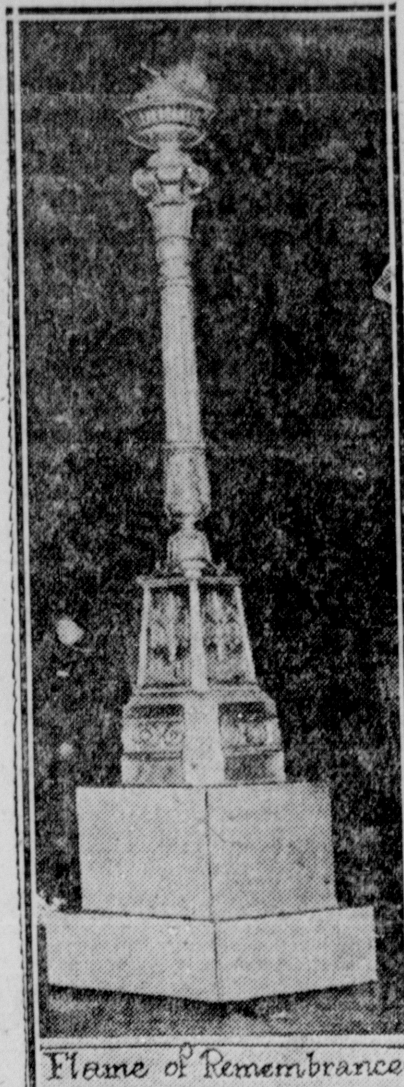

LEGAL FORM ALL THAT'S NECESSARY

New York, Nov. 15.—The trial of Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes' suit for separation from her millionaire husband will be resumed next Monday before Justice Wasservogel in the supreme court, a postponement being allowed in order that Mr. Stokes' new counsel, I. Gainsburg, might familiarize himself with the evidence submitted at the former trial. So far as legal separation is concerned, Mrs. Stokes' will win this virtually by default, as her husband's attorneys have declared that the defendant desires separation as much as the plaintiff. The real contest of the trial will revolve around Mrs. Stokes' efforts to get $35,000 a year permanent alimony and her dower right of $2,333,000—one-third of her husband's estate—together with the custody of their two children.

MAIL CAR BURNS

Toledo, Nov. 15.—A loss that probably will total thousands of dollars was sustained when a 60-foot mail car attached to a Baltimore and Ohio train burned at Roachton, six miles south of here. Postmaster George Lathrop was unable to give an estimate of the loss other than to say it would be in the thousands.

The French Government is seeking plans for a permanent Flame of Remembrance to be placed on the tomb of the Unknown Poilu at the Arc de Triomphe, in Paris. Above is one of the many projects offered. It is shown as it was tested in the Arc de Triomphe.

CRUISER EXPECTED TO SOLVE MYSTERY

Washington, Nov. 15.—The new United States scout cruiser Milwaukee is due to arrive in San Francisco on Friday from Turk, Caroline Islands, a Japanese protectorate. Navy department officials are anxiously awaiting from the Milwaukee a possible answer to the question, "Who killed Lieutenant Colonel Earl H. Ellis of the intelligence service of the United States marine corps?"

Colonel Ellis was assassinated under very mysterious circumstances at Panoa, a Japanese protectorate of the Caroline Islands, some time ago, and navy and diplomatic circles have been trying to ascertain whether or not the colonel's death was due to the machinations of the international spy system. The Milwaukee, ostensibly on a "shake down cruise," such as is usually assigned newly constructed vessels, is expected to bring back the answer. New ships usually make cruises to far more interesting ports than the Caroline Islands.

Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 15.—John Rau, the millionaire barber, is dead. In spite of his million he kept on shaving to the end. His savings from singes and haircuts and once-over scrapings were invested in local real estate.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture. You can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

Many Have Appendicitis Don't Know It

Much so-called stomach trouble is really chronic appendicitis. This can often be relieved by simple glycerine backthorn bark, etc., as mixed in Adlerika. Most medicines act only on lower bowel but Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and removes all gasses and poisons. Brings out matter you never thought was in your system. Excellent for obstinate constipation, Sayre and Hemphill, 8 South Detroit Street.

Referee: Dave Reese, Denison. Headlinesman: V. L. Faires, Ohio State. Time 2:30 o'clock.

Central High School students were sustaining their breath Thursday in anticipation of the field dedication day football game between Coach Earl Burgner's warriors and London High at Edwin B. Cox Memorial Athletic Field Friday afternoon.

When the playing field is dedicated to the memory of former Superintendent Cox, for 30 years head of the Xenia schools, students are expecting to properly celebrate. Athletic authorities at the school have arranged a fitting program to mark the dedication exercises which will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Students will march from Central High School to the gridiron in a body, and under capable direction will burst into songs and yells designed to inspire the blue and white grid-ders to victory. Guests of the school will include pupils of the O. S. and S. O. Home and the Cadet Band from that institution is expected to add considerable musical gaiety.

A blue and white rocking chair along the sidelines within the sanctity of the playing field itself, will be provided for Mrs. Emma Zell, chosen "Mother" of the football squad, who will occupy this place of honor, R. Hayes Hamilton creator of the Hamilton Travelogues, who was a member of the original committee of graduates that conceived and started the athletic field fund, will deliver a short address preceding the game.

Every blue and white athlete available for duty last week, is in top form for the contest, as no additional cripples were added to the casualty list in last week's encounter. Playing with the encouragement of a victory back of them, Captain Fuller and his henchmen are showing better spirit than any time during the season. They are fully determined to beat the dedication jinx by walloping Coach Lynn's London outfit and avenging a scoreless tie that marred the record of last year's eleven. To do this will require real football and that is what Burgner's eleven is promising for Friday afternoon. The whistle will blow at three o'clock with Dave Reese, popular official, in charge of the game. Considering the local interest and the promised delegation from London one of the largest crowds to ever attend a high school game here is expected.

EAST SIDE ELEVEN AND TROY MIAMIS WILL MEET SUNDAY

Something is bound to happen when the East Side Athletic Club football team meets the Troy Miamis at Dickerson Park here Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Neither team has been defeated this season and unless a tie results one of these teams is scheduled to have its record broken in this contest.

The Troy aggregation is a veteran footballing combination, having furnished star football teams for several years. The Trojans now claim the colored independent championship of the state, about which the East Side eleven will have something to say Sunday.

Several former Wilberforce University stars are enrolled in the lineup of the Miamis, and the visitors are particularly boastful of their quarterback, William Gentry, who is said to be able to pass a football from one end of the field to the other. He will be watched sharply for such tactics Sunday.

The East Side eleven, fresh from its victory over the American Guards at Dayton last Sunday, expects to be in top form for the battle. The team will meet Thursday evening at seven o'clock at the home of W. O. Rickman, manager, and will take the field for the game Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

CEDARVILLE AND CAPITAL ELEVEN TO PLAY SATURDAY

Local fans will have more than usual interest in the Cedarville-Capital football game to be played in Columbus Saturday afternoon.

Local interest in the fortunes of the Cedarville College eleven, on which three former Central High stars are players, is enhanced by the fact that Jerry L. Katherman, former Central High coach, is mentoring the Columbus eleven.

The Lutherans are putting out their first football team this season for 25 years, and have been attended by more than the customary first-year luck. The team has lost a majority of its games but has displayed a fine fighting spirit that has won it instant recognition.

Capital lost to Ashland 23 to 0 Monday, an interesting feature of the battle being the fact that Katherman and Coach Meredith of Ashland opposed each other on the gridiron when Katherman was tackle at Ohio Northern University and Meredith was earning his letter at Denison.

Cedarville College lost to Ashland, 45 to 0 a week ago, which gives comparative scores on the teams. Cedarville again lost to Antioch last Saturday 6 to 2, but Coach Talcott is grooming his athletes hard this week for a comeback against the Katherman coached eleven. The outcome will be watched with interest.

OPERATORS DENY CHARGE

Philadelphia, Oct. 16.—Absolute denial that the committee of anthracite coal operators had refused to "clean its own house" was made by Samuel D. Warriner, chairman, in a letter to Governor Pinchot. The letter was prompted by a statement made by the governor Tuesday in a letter to governors of 29 states. The statement charged the operators had been given every opportunity to correct abuses in the industry and had refused.

Forbes denied specifically that he received $5,000 from Mortimer in Chicago, or $1,000 or $1,500 in Washington, or that Mortimer had paid any of his expenses on the trip they took to the Pacific coast together in the summer of 1922.

Denying Mortimer's testimony that there were wild drinking parties on the western trip, Forbes declared dramatically: "Gentlemen, I know of no drinking on that trip except by Mr. Mortimer."

When Forbes had entered a general denial of General Sawyer's testimony it was suggested that perhaps General Sawyer had been mistaken. Forbes quickly retorted, "Mistaken? No, he's not mistaken. He just told a lie."

FORBES GIVES LIE TO HIS ACCUSERS DURING HEARING

of Forbes counter-charges.

General O'Ryan then resumed his cross examination of Forbes.

"Did you have an altercation with Mortimer on Labor Day, 1922?" O'Ryan asked.

"I don't recall," Forbes replied.

"Did you have any altercation that time?"

"Yes Sir. I had a few words with him."

"Was this about Mrs. Mortimer?"

"Isn't it a fact that Mortimer came into his apartment at the Wardman Park hotel and found you there with Mrs. Mortimer?"

"Yes, and the doors were wide open."

"How long were you there?"

"About two minutes."

"Was this altercation during the time when you suspected Mortimer of representing the Southernland Construction Company?"

"It was during the period I suspected him of bootlegging activities," replied Forbes, as the crowd of spectators laughed.

Washington, Nov. 15.—A sensational development in the investigation of the veterans' bureau was a threat made by a spectator against Elias H. Mortimer, chief accuser of Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director.

The threat, made during a recess, was brought to the attention of the committee, with the result that Chairman Reed publicly warned that he would seek to indict anyone threatening or attempting to intimidate witnesses. Forbes and his counsel, James S. Esby Smith, denied any responsibility for the incident.

When direct examination of Forbes was concluded, he was turned over to Major General John F. Ryan, counsel for the committee, for cross-examination.

Forbes in his testimony gave the lie specifically to Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer, physician to the late President Harding; Mortimer and James M. Williams of Philadelphia, his chief accusers. Every accusation made against him by Mortimer in his sensational testimony the second day of the hearing, was taken up in detail and branded as false.

Mortimer, Williams and others were charged by Forbes with conspiring to bring about his destruction. He proposed to present proof to the committee that they had given perjured testimony. The committee asked to have it presented later.

When Forbes had entered a general denial of General Sawyer's testimony it was suggested that perhaps General Sawyer had been mistaken. Forbes quickly retorted, "Mistaken? No, he's not mistaken. He just told a lie."

Forbes denied specifically that he received $5,000 from Mortimer in Chicago, or $1,000 or $1,500 in Washington, or that Mortimer had paid any of his expenses on the trip they took to the Pacific coast together in the summer of 1922.

Denying Mortimer's testimony that there were wild drinking parties on the western trip, Forbes declared dramatically: "Gentlemen, I know of no drinking on that trip except by Mr. Mortimer."

When Forbes had entered a general denial of General Sawyer's testimony it was suggested that perhaps General Sawyer had been mistaken. Forbes quickly retorted, "Mistaken? No, he's not mistaken. He just told a lie."

FELLOWSHIP NEEDED IN WORLD TODAY KIWANIS TOLD

Reverend Edward Berger, who is giving a series of lectures on psychology under the auspices of The Ministerial Association of this city, addressed the Xenia Kiwanis Club on "Relationship," at the regular meeting at the Elks' Club Wednesday afternoon.

The speaker treating his subject scientifically and in its practical bearing on human society. He gave as a synonym for fellowship the word "together."

He showed how great a work members of the Kiwanis Club, and organizations like it, are doing and can do, both individually and as clubs, in helping to establish right relationships every where on earth where their influence reaches. The membership is built up on the idea of fellowship among its members.

Fellowship enters into all things in which the world is interested today, declared Mr. Berger. He thought it vital that America get in the game and do her part in world problems, and that there is no such thing as "magnificent aloofness."

"We must meet on common ground," he said, going into the immigration question and referred to the "melting pot" in commendatory terms but wanted to know "what about the pot that doesn't melt?"

He spoke of the millions of foreigners who want to become loyal citizens and in that wish challenge Americans to establish right relationship with them, not in "high brow" fashion but out of an earnest desire to share with them our American heritage.

In conclusion, the speaker said, "Today, we can speak out loudly of God. Business men are willing to listen. That is one good thing the world. Attention was called to "Fundamentals of Prosperity" by Roger Babson, the greatest statistician of the country, in which he tells us there is no safety in our wealth unless we share it and that all business is based on confidence in each other; but that confidence is a matter of character and character is strongest, when backed by religious principles.

Coach Ernest Godfrey of Wittenberg College and E. C. Janson of Springfield were guests at the meeting, bringing an invitation to members of the Kiwanis Club to be guests of the college at the Wittenberg-Mt. Union football game, Saturday at the new Springfield stadium.

A. L. Regan, D. E. Anderson and E. D. Beatty have been elected into membership of the club.

CYNTHIA'S CURIOSITY

Chapter 14

Dale Hoff's remark about Lee lingered annoyingly in Cynthia's mind. Its significance grew bigger and bigger, and when she could not endure its torment any longer she went to the telephone and called Hoff up.

"Hello, Dale!" she drawled enticingly. "Doing anything tonight? Come on up and amuse me, I'm frightfully bored with life."

"Lonely, perhaps?" Dale ventured. "Heard from Lee?"

"Heaven forbid; Lee's disgusting when he gets on one of those fishing spells. I can't abide him. Every time I think of those foul smelling fish I saturate myself with perfume—$10 an ounce from Paris."

"All right, I'll be up. Love to come. Which had I better bring—candy or perfume?" Dale retorted.

"Both—for safety." Cynthia answered, feigning a yawn into the telephone receiver. "And come soon. I hate waiting."

She slipped the receiver back softly on the hook and strolled over languidly to a deep cushioned chair. Some magazines lay on the table and Cynthia picked up one and turned the pages indifferently, her tall slender figure reclining against the chair's comfortable softness. She wanted to be amused. She wanted someone to make a fuss over her and she knew that Dale Hoff could do it quite satisfactorily.

As she turned the pages of the magazine a picture suddenly attracted her attention. It was only an illustration for one of the short stories, yet it claimed Cynthia's eyes the second she perceived it. The picture was of a girl in knickerbockers seated on a large rock, fishing in the glossy smoothness of a woodland brook.

Cynthia fingered the corner of the page and frowned. She was thinking of Lee and his absurd passion for fishing. Also she became suddenly conscious of the fact that some women enjoy fishing. To Cynthia it was an unbelievably disgusting fact, yet it remained a fact in spite of her own feelings.

She turned the page over then turned back quickly to look at the picture again. It annoyed her, yet it compelled her attention. Something about it seemed persistently suggestive of Lee's long silence. Why had he not answered her letter? Dale Hoff's question of the night before, "What's the attraction?" rose again in her thoughts seeking an answer.

She moved uneasily in the deep cushioned chair and brought the two covers of the magazine together with a fierce little slam. Then she tucked it carefully beneath a number of magazines on the table as if she hoped to shut out the picture from her thoughts.

She got up and went over to an oval gold mirror, touching it here and there with clever fingers.

If Lee intended to be stubborn and ignore her, then she was going to amuse herself in other directions. Dale Hoff had always appealed to her more or less and she knew Dale welcomed Lee's absence as an opportunity not to be neglected. He could be divinely devoted whenever Lee gave him an opportunity. So it gave Cynthia a chance to retaliate to bask in Dale's admiration, knowing that Lee was always fiendishly jealous. She would write to him again, and tell him not to trouble himself about hurrying home that she was finding plenty of ways to amuse herself in other directions.

Yet as Cynthia waited impatiently for Dale, her thoughts dwelt upon the letter which he had received from Lee and she wondered if there was anything else which Lee had written that Dale had not told her. She would not confess it to herself, yet it was primarily to find out about Lee's letter that she had urged Dale to come and see her.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once.

Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.
